

Christopher P. Davis

Chris Davis directs the Investor Program at Ceres and is chief of staff of the 100 member Investor Network on Climate Risk (INCR), working with North American institutional investors and asset managers on climate change and other sustainability issues. Prior to joining Ceres in 2010, Chris spent almost 30 years practicing environmental law. As a senior partner at Goodwin Procter LLP, Chris chaired the environmental practice, co-founded and led the clean tech practice, and was a member of the private equity team. He is a member of the American College of Environmental Lawyers and has held various leadership positions in the American Bar Association's Section of Environment, Energy and Resources. Prior to his legal career, he worked as an environmental engineer. Chris holds degrees from Dartmouth College and Harvard Law School, where he was a member of the Harvard Law Review.

Erika Karp

Erika Karp is the Founder and CEO of Cornerstone Capital Inc. The mission of the firm is to apply the principles of sustainable finance and economics towards facilitating the flow of capital around the world. Primary activities of Cornerstone include consulting to both corporations and financial institutions, promoting new research in the field of ESG analysis (Environmental, Social and Governance), and facilitating introductions leading to the financing of new enterprises engaged in sustainable business practices.

Prior to founding Cornerstone, Erika was Managing Director and Head of Global Sector Research at UBS Investment Bank. She chaired the UBS Global Investment Review Committee and managed a global team of analysts and strategists. Erika served on the UBS Securities Research Executive Committee and the Environmental and Human Rights Committee of the UBS Group Executive Board. While at UBS, Erika created and drove key branded global investment research products including the UBS Q-Series®, the Global I/O®, Global Signals™ and the weekly "UBS Global Portfolio Manager's Spotlight." Erika speaks and writes extensively on topics including: sustainable investing and finance, corporate strategy and business models, transparency and excellence in the areas of Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) performance, and employee engagement/diversity in the workplace. Her work has been featured by Euromoney, the Financial Times, Bloomberg Businessweek, Investor Relations Magazine, and Forbes. For driving collaboration across the capital markets, she has been named among the nation's "Top 50 Women in Wealth" by AdvisorOne. Erika is a founding Board member of the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board, a member of the World Economic Forum Global Agenda Council on Financing and Capital, and sits on the Program Design Advisory Council for Harvard Business School's Executive Education Program. Erika speaks at events including those of the OECD, the UN Global Compact and PRI, Deloitte, Oxford University, The Forum for Sustainable and Responsible Investing, Ceres, the Clinton Global Initiative, the EPA, and the White House. She holds an MBA Columbia University and a BSE from the Wharton School.

Rob Lake

Rob Lake is a London-based global leader in the field of sustainable investing. He advises asset owners, such as the Norwegian Government Pension Fund – Global, one of the largest sovereign wealth funds in the world, on incorporating environmental, social and governance issues (ESG) in their investment processes. Rob has a unique combination of experience in the field of sustainable investing in organizations ranging from one of the largest pension plan managers in Europe to a leading global investment manager to a global investor-led developer of ESG practices. He has built and led the sustainability and governance team at one of the world's largest asset owners (APG Asset Management, Netherlands); directed company research and engagement on the ESG issues for a leading fund manager (Henderson Global Investors, United Kingdom); and overseen the development of responsible investment tools and training materials, and facilitated worldwide investor networking on the ESG issues, at the United Nations-supported Principles for Responsible Investment initiative. Rob holds a BA degree in Modern Languages from Cambridge University and an MA degree in Interpreting and Translating from University of Bradford. He has also taken courses in Technology and Science at The Open University and leadership classes at London Business School.

Benjamin C. Lovell, CFA

Ben has been managing portfolios of securities for socially responsible investors since 1985. He is President of Zevin Asset Management, LLC in Boston. He holds an MBA in Finance and a BS in Environmental Conservation from the University of New Hampshire. He is a Chartered Financial Analyst and a member of the CFA Institute, the Boston Security Analysts Society, the Maine Security Analysts Society, and the Social Investment Forum. He currently chairs the Finance Committee for the Jessie Smith Noyes Foundation and has served as an officer or on boards or committees associated with the Maine Initiatives Fund, the Seacoast Anti-Pollution League, York Hospital, Bow Street Youth Symphony, Maine Businesses for Social Responsibility, the Portsmouth Music Hall, the Exeter Area VNA, and the York Rotary Club.

Steve Lydenberg, CFA

Steve Lydenberg is Partner, Strategic Vision for Domini Social Investments. For over three decades he has been active in the responsible investment field with KLD Research & Analytics and Trillium Asset Management, among other organizations. A founding director of the Initiative for Responsible Investment at the Hauser Institute for Civil Society at Harvard University, he is author of "Reason, Rationality and Fiduciary Duty" and "On Materiality and Sustainability: The Value of Disclosure in the Capital Markets" as well as several books on responsible investment including Corporations and the Public Interest (Berrett-Koehler) and Dilemmas in Responsible Investment (Greenleaf) with Céline Louche. He was also a founding board member of the Sustainable Accounting Standards Board (SASB).

Christopher C. McKnett

Chris McKnett is a Vice President of State Street Global Advisors. He is the head of the firms' global Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) investments business. Chris works across asset classes, investment teams and key functional domains to champion sustainable and responsible investment on behalf of SSgA and its clients. Chris is co-chair of SSgA's ESG Working Group, a member of SSgA's Proxy Review Committee, and a member of both State Street's Corporate Citizenship and Environmental Sustainability Working Groups. Before joining SSgA in 2007, he worked for KLD Research & Analytics, Inc. Chris began working in the investment industry in 1999.

Chris is a First Mover Fellow at the Aspen Institute Business & Society Program and a member of the Investment Commission of the United Nations Environment Programme Finance Initiative. Chris serves on the Advisory Council to The Sustainability Accounting Standards Board. He earned his MBA from the Daniels College of Business at the University of Denver and a Bachelors of Science in Business Administration from the University of Connecticut.

Eric Wetlaufer

Eric Wetlaufer leads Canada Pension Plan (CPP) Investment Board's Public Market Investments department. Eric also serves on the Advisory Council of the United Nations-backed Principles of Responsible Investment (PRI) initiative. In addition, he is a member of the board of directors of the TMX Group, which owns and operates the Toronto Stock Exchange, the TSX Venture Exchange and the Montreal Exchange. Prior to joining the CPP Investment Board in June 2011, Eric was the Group Chief Investment Officer, International at Fidelity Management & Research in Boston. Eric also held the roles of Chief Investment Officer of U.S. Mid Cap and Specialty Growth at Putnam Investments and Managing Director at Cadence Capital Management.

Eric is a past president and director of The Boston Security Analysts Society and is active on several nonprofit boards including Bay Cove Human Services and the Melanoma Foundation of New England. Eric earned a B.A. in Earth Science from Wesleyan University and is a Chartered Financial Analyst.